

EMERGINT OVERVIEW

National, full-service Information Technology consulting firm.

Management Consulting. IT Professional Services. Data Integration Software. IT Staffing Services.

Emergint experts offer creative ideas to solve some of our nation's toughest problems, including building components of our nation's bioterrorism preparedness and alerting network; collecting, integrating and managing clinical data to support retrospective and prospective research; providing public health informatics; providing classified and non-classified IT support services, and managing the grants processing for our nation's medical research studies. We have experience with local, state, and federal government agencies, as well as private companies.
